

EFFECT OF PRESIDENT'S WARNING UNKNOWN

NONE OF THE HEADS OF FACTIONS IN MEXICO HAVE MADE REPLY

Coalition of Elements Which Originally Composed the Constitutional Party Would Meet With Early Recognition According to the Prevailing View in Official Quarters.

Washington, June 5.—None of the heads of factions in Mexico have made reply up to a late hour tonight to the note of President Wilson regarding the situation in the southern republic and the effect of the president's warning was still unknown. However, evidences of a desire on the part of the Villa-Zapata forces to discuss terms of peace with the Carranza element were not lacking.

A coalition of the elements which originally composed the successful constitutional party in its campaign against General Huerta would meet with early recognition according to the prevailing view in official quarters here. The attitude of General Carranza has not been clearly defined but from all available information he intends to press his military campaign in an effort to dominate the situation by force.

Reports from the border that the Villa officials had sent a request to Eliseo Arrandondo, Washington representative of Carranza, to outline a basis for negotiations were declared unfounded by Mr. Arrandondo himself as well as Enrique C. Ibarra, the Villa representative.

The president's statement, however, has stimulated discussion among Mexicans of all factions here and the possibility of a reunion of the Villa-Zapata and Carranza factions is widely commented on.

PRESIDENT'S NOTE TO GERMANY IS VIRTUALLY FINISHED

Document is Not Given to Legal Officers of State Department Saturday as Had Been Expected—Reason for Delay is Not Revealed.

Washington, June 5.—The note which President Wilson with the approval of his cabinet had prepared to be sent to Germany insisting on adherence to the rules of international law in the conduct of maritime warfare was not cabled today. Word came from the white house in the forenoon that it virtually had been finished but the document was not given to the legal officers of the state department today as had been expected. The reason for the delay in the despatch of the note was not revealed.

Officials declined to say when the note would be cabled or what its status was. The fact that the president had practically finished it led to the belief that Secretary Bryan would study it tonight and tomorrow and that it would be given to counsellor Lansing and other officials of the state department on Monday for revision of legal detail.

If the communication is not sent before Monday night it would hardly reach Ambassador Gerard before Wednesday for presentation to the German foreign office as about 48 hours is allowed by officials now for transmission of messages via London and Copenhagen to Berlin.

In some quarters the delay in sending the note was thought to be due to a desire to give Myer Gerard, personal envoy of Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, more time to reach Berlin on a Danish vessel, an opportunity to reach Germany about the time the imperial government would be considering the American rejoinder. Officials declined, however, to admit that this was a factor in the situation.

ALLIES BEGIN COMBINED ATTACK IN DARDANELLES

CHURCHILL STATES TROOPS ARE WITHIN A FEW MILES OF VICTORY

Turkey is Reported to be Near the End of Her Resources in the Caucasus—Fortunes in Galicia are Fluctuating.

London, June 5.—A despatch from Mitlyene that a combined general offensive against the Turkish positions began yesterday and Winston Churchill's statement at Dundee that the allied forces are within a few miles of victory is taken as an indication that things are moving a little more quickly on the Gallipoli peninsula where the Anglo-French troops are fighting for positions which will give them command of the Dardanelles.

Turkey is reported to be near the end of her resources in the Caucasus where the Russians are making steady progress and the Turks may be expected to meet an Italian landing in Asia Minor.

Fortunes in Galicia Fluctuating.

Heavy fighting is still in progress in Galicia, where the Austro-German are attempting an encircling movement against Lemberg, such as proved successful at Przemyśl. In this the fortunes are fluctuating. The Austro-Germans appear to be making progress from the southwest, while their left wing is held up on the lower reaches of the San river and their extreme right in eastern Galicia and Bukovina is being severely hammered by the Russians.

The attempted German offensive in the west seems to have failed as Berlin admits today the loss of the sugar refinery at Souchez, which is considered an important position and to gain which many lives have been sacrificed. Fighting however, is still going on between the Germans and British at Hooze, first one and then the other taking the offensive.

Sink Several Ships.

War News Summarized

Brief mention is made in the latest official statement issued by the Russian war office of the appearance of a strong German fleet in the Baltic sea, which has exchanged shots with the Russian fleet near the Gulf of Riga.

The nature of the fleet, or where it came from is problematical but nearly a month ago several German warships were observed cruising in the southern Baltic.

The American note which is to be sent to Berlin in reply to the German note on the American demands has been completed but is not yet in the hands of the legal officers of the state department, according to Washington despatches.

As a consequence the note will not be forwarded to Germany as early a date as was expected.

A further advance of the Teutonic allies toward Moszka, with indications of a great battle near the Grodek Lakes south of Lemberg, are contained in reports from the Galician front.

The Austro-German military authorities according to these reports anticipate serious opposition on the part of the Russians, reinforced by large numbers of reserves.

With this event forecast in the southeastern war theater both the Russians and the Austro-Germans continue fighting along the entire front in Galicia. Reports from Vienna declare that the Russians are in full retreat although the Petrograd war office maintains that the advance of the enemy has been arrested ten miles east of Przemyśl.

In France the Germans admit the loss to the French of the sugar refinery at Souchez, but declare that an attack by the enemy at Neuville has been repulsed.

Along the other fronts in the west little of importance has occurred.

In the Italian war theater the Vienna war office declares that nothing of importance has occurred but from Chiasso, Switzerland, come reports that the invading Italians are making slow progress in southern Tyrol, where it is stated, the Austrian military authorities have decided to remove the civil population.

The Russian occupation of Van, Turkish Armenia, has been followed by attacks by bands of Kurds in the districts of Bitlis, Mush and Diarbeckir, according to despatches from Tiflis, Transcaucasia. The report from Tiflis also states that Armenian volunteers are fighting desperately to protect the Christian population from the Kurds.

The visit of Emperor William at the headquarters of Field Marshal Arch Duke Frederick the Austrian commander-in-chief, to take part in the celebration of the Arch Duke's birthday was made the occasion of rejoicing at the fall of Przemyśl.

Coincident with the emperor's visit, the Exchange Telegraph company has published in London a despatch from Vienna saying that a coalition government is to be formed in Hungary.

Submarine activity by the Germans continues according to a despatch from Kirkwall, Orkney Islands, which states that three more British vessels had been sunk. They are the steam fishing vessels Evening Star and Cortes of Aberdeen and the Catheline of Peterhead. A fourth vessel, the Steamer Sunset Head, was torpedoed on Friday.

COWMEN TAKE U. S. YOUTHS FROM MEXICANS

FOLLOW VILLA TROOPS TO CAMP AND FORCE RELEASE OF BOYS

Capture Youths on American Side of Border and Drive Them to Santa Cruz, Mexico—Cowboys Level Guns at Commander While 150 Soldiers Look on.

Nogales, Ariz., June 5.—A posse of ten American cowboys and miners rode eight miles across the border into Santa Cruz, Sonora, late today and leveling their guns at the colonel commanding the garrison, while 150 Mexican soldiers looked on, secured the immediate release of two boys kidnapped early today by three of the soldiers on the Arizona side of the border. The colonel gave up his two 17 year old prisoners, George Vaughn, son of the storekeeper at Duquesne, and Henry Chang, son of a Chinese-American citizen of Washington Camp, Arizona, without demur and the posse rode back to the United States.

Santa Cruz is garrisoned by forces of Jose Maytorena, the Villa governor of Sonora. Washington Camp, where the Mexicans captured the boys, and Duquesne are border settlements 25 miles east of here. What was expected to be gained by the kidnapping of the boys was not ascertained.

O. K. Franklin, a miner, reported the kidnapping. He saw the three Mexican soldiers, mounted, near the border driving the boys, who were on foot, ahead of them at the point of revolvers. The boys' hands were tied.

Army officers were notified as was Sheriff W. R. McKnight, who promptly started out from here with a posse. Meantime cowboys and miners from Duquesne had taken the trail.

Governor Maytorena, whose headquarters are at Nogales, Sonora, said he had no knowledge of the kidnapping.

Army officers here said they thought the raid would have no serious consequences.

Officials and stockholders of the company and others were examined as to their knowledge of recent transactions leading up to the receivership.

Nathan A. Amster, elected a director by minority stockholders, stated he was the only member of the board who seriously endeavored to raise money to meet obligations of the road falling due May 1st, last. He returned to New York to report his success, he said, only to find that the company was in the receivers' hands.

Amster produced a statement issued by the receivers which he declared showed that there was an excess of earnings over fixed charges for the remaining eight months of the calendar year amounting to between four and five million dollars, bearing out his assertion that there was no necessity for the receivership.

President H. U. Mudge of the company, who is one of the receivers declared that the statement was not a report of earnings but a forecast of cash showing the money the receivers would need.

LASSEN VOLCANO UNDER OBSERVATION

Forest Service Co-operates With Geological Survey in Recording Dangerous Peak's Activity.

Washington, June 6.—Mt. Lassen, California, whose violent eruption of May 19 places it in the first rank of volcanoes now dangerously active, has become the subject of an informal co-operative study by the geological survey and the forest service. At the request of the survey a telegram has been sent from Washington instructing the officers of the Lassen national forest, in which the peak stands, to continue observations of the volcano's activity and keep a record to be used as a basis for a scientific investigation by J. S. Diller, a government geologist, who is expected at Lassen early in July.

The observations are being made by forest rangers at the scene and from a fire lookout tower on Brokenout mountain, a few miles north of the crater, where the forest service last year kept watch on the numerous eruptions which occurred from May to September.

It is not known whether a cloud-burst started the last eruption by precipitating rain down upon the molten lava in the crater, or whether melting of the snow on the peak, with consequent flowing of water into the crater, caused the accumulation of steam which blew a river of mud out of the mountain. Mr. Diller, who made a study of the volcano last year, said that he inclined toward the melted snow theory, adding that the bright glow reported as appearing on the clouds of smoke and steam over the crater is a reflection of the red hot matter uncovered by the eruption, indicating that the volcano is in a more or less dangerous mood.

The river of mud which was shot out of the north side of the crater and down Hat creek has damaged government and private property, says a wire to the forest service from San Francisco, destroying bridges which were necessary to permit the entrance of livestock that are grazed on the forest range during the summer. Some 12,000 cattle and 30,000 sheep are grazed on the Lassen forest every year.

Mt. Lassen is regarded as exceptionally interesting from a scientific viewpoint, inasmuch as it is the only active volcano in the United States proper, is very accessible to observers, and appears to be full of dangerous possibilities. There is much that is not known about volcanoes, and Lassen is expected by geologists to furnish a considerable addition to existing information on the subject.

WILL PROBE CHARGES AGAINST MIDSHIPMEN

SEVEN ALLEGED TO HAVE SECURED INFORMATION ON EXAMINATIONS

Court Will Also Make Sweeping Inquiry Into Reports That Others and Possibly Some Instructors Were Involved in the Irregularities.

Washington, June 5.—Following a conference with President Wilson today, Secretary Daniels appointed a court of inquiry to investigate specific charges that seven midshipmen at the Annapolis naval academy had secured advance information on examinations. The court will make a sweeping inquiry, however, into reports that other midshipmen and possibly some instructors were involved in the irregularities.

No attempt was made at the navy department tonight to minimize the gravity of the situation. During his conference with Secretary Daniels President Wilson approved recommendations that three cadets at the academy charged with irregularities in connection with recent examinations be dismissed from the service. The secretary refused to make public the names of the midshipmen all of whom were lower class men. One of them was charged with having offered a bribe to a civilian employee of the academy for advance information on an examination while it was alleged that the other two broke into a professor's room to ascertain the standing they had attained in an examination.

The seven midshipmen whose cases will furnish the basis for the investigation have already been recommended for dismissal by the academy board but Secretary Daniels following a personal investigation of the situation at the academy this week decided that it was best to go thoroughly into all charges involving others.

The action of the ladies comprising the Parent-Teachers' association should receive careful consideration by members of our Board of Education. Parents of pupils in our public schools are most vitally interested in every phase of the management and regulation of the schools and their opinions worthy of respect.

Within the limits of greater Boston is the Blue Hill reservation, a parkland free from the ravages of sportsmen, where the wild life is learning to be friendly with humans. Winthrop Packard, naturalist, author and lecturer, says that foxes abound in this protected region, and evidence of the fact is given in a recent issue of Our Dumb Animals in the picture of a fox snatched by the camera. The little redwoods have grown so bold that they roam about freely in daylight and even follow people who are tramping through the reservation, keeping a discreet and curious distance.

A SOLEMN BIRTHDAY.

King George celebrated his 50th birthday on June 3. He marked the occasion by pinning a new decoration on Lord Kitchener. It was a sad and solemn anniversary for the monarch of Great Britain. Less than a month ago London red a salute to the anniversary of his ascension to the throne. He has been a king for five years and probably is not enamored of the king business.

They have been very troublous years. England seethed with social and industrial unrest the greater part of them. The United Kingdom was threatened with civil strife over the issue of home rule, and the culminating grief and anxiety were reached when the bolt of war fell from Europe's clear sky.

GOT YOUR JOB?

The senate has passed a bill to create a state board of censors to pass on movie films. There are to be three members, each to have a salary of $2,500. Of course clerks and offices and all the other expensive frills will be added.

Chicago is permitted to have a board of movie censors of its own. A film may be passed by the state board of censors and later be rejected by Chicago's home-made board.

And even this isn't the end of the story. There is a national board of censors that, according to report, has been doing very good work. This body has a membership that is more competent than we can hope to get on any politically appointed board. And where are we, asks the Decatur Review. The national board of censors passes on a reel of films. Then it goes to a state board. After that it journeys to a home-grown Chicago board.

And if there is anybody who hasn't a job in the movies he would better speak up now, while the picking is good. Get in the fashion and "butt in."

IS THE "JITNEY" A PUBLIC UTILITY?

The State Register says: The decision of Judge Thompson of the state utility commission, confirmed by the entire commission, holding that the jitney bus is a public utility will put a "crimp" in the jitney business in Illinois if it is sustained by the courts.

It is the first time, we believe, that a decision to that effect has been made, and consequently no court has rendered its opinion on the question.

Judge Thompson is considered an able juror. Many intricate questions have come before him as a judge of the circuit court for the Springfield district and his decisions have usually been sustained by the higher courts. It is therefore probable that his decision on the jitney will be sustained.

As a matter of fact, jitneys may be found to be a public utility. But to the lay mind the jitney traffic has hardly reached sufficient importance to be so designated. It is so far merely experimental. In few, if any cities in the country are the people or any considerable portion of them dependent upon jitney service. Jitneys carry comparatively few people. At best they are only a convenience and not a necessity. They do not compete. They do not give transfers and the fare is five cents—no more no less. Their cars can be called "public" just as a taxi or a state wagon or an omnibus only they travel regular routes, or, at least, at irregular periods. They lack various items of being a substitute for a street car. They can scarcely be called competitors. They take some money that would otherwise go into the treasury of a street railway company, but not enough to make the latter unprofitable.

Jitneys should be regulated by the cities in which they are operated, because they use the streets and are engaged in business which needs guarantee of safety and certain restrictions that must be provided for.

The State Register is not a champion of the jitney service. There are objections against jitneys that appeal to us. They add to congestion of the auto traffic on the street and are liable in some ways to interfere with foot passengers. But there are other things greatly objectionable in life that people submit to with grace. If it is finally decided that jitney service is really a public utility, the service will either cease or be vastly improved before it can be operated with success. In the latter case the people will be benefited and the street railway service will have real competition.

OUR LEGISLATURE.

With less than two weeks still to run, the forty-ninth general assembly has cleaned up practically all of the more important matters before it and the last two weeks, in the main, will be devoted to the consideration of measures in which interest is sectional rather than general.

A few notable exceptions exist, however. Principal among these is the Chicago proposition for "home rule" of the public utilities of that city. This measure is scheduled for consideration on the order of passage by the house next Tuesday. Should the bill pass the house, it still has the senate journey before it and opposition to the bill in the senate is generally believed to be at least as general as on the house side.

In its present form the bill applies only to the city of Chicago, the house having taken out the amendment once adopted making it possible for every municipality in the state that desired "home rule" to have it.

Supporters of the fifty cent limit bill will make final effort next Wednesday to get consideration of their measure. Speaker Shanahan stated before leaving for home that he will give the friends of the bill an opportunity then to make up their bill if they can muster sufficient votes to suspend the rules for this purpose. The house refused this week to take up the bill out of the regular order, but since the calendar is so congested that the regular order probably will not be followed any longer, the only opportunity in sight for consideration of the bill is through a suspension of the rules.

Speaker Shanahan also stated that if the proponents of the anti-injunction bill have the votes they will be given opportunity to call up that measure. This bill slipped along to the order of third reading without attracting particular attention. Then some one discovered what it really meant and a roar of protest went up from the employers of the state. While the bill prohibits the issuing of injunctions except when it can be shown that irreparable damage would otherwise result, it also legalizes "peaceful picketing" and it is this provision that has so thoroughly aroused the employing class. It is declared that "peaceful picketing" would drive anyone out of business. Next Thursday is the day set for the supporters of the bill to move a suspension of the rules so that it may be considered.

Considerable interest attaches to the action the house will take upon the Carroll boxing bill, which passed the senate a few days ago. The low, or branch, recently defeated the bill on the same subject originating in that house, but friends of the proposition believe they can pass the senate bill.

Hope of increased strength for the boxing bill is based upon the amendment tied to the measure in the senate which requires its adoption by referendum vote in any city before it shall become effective. Since the passage of the bill in the senate its friends have discovered a handicap not realized when the referendum feature was placed in the bill. Under the women's suffrage act the women of the state are permitted to vote upon all propositions submitted at the polls and not of state wide extent. This means that the women in every municipality will have opportunity to vote upon the adoption of the boxing act if it passes.

Election legislation is still to be disposed of. The principal point of contention in this matter is the dates for the primaries. While a majority of the republican legislators, in joint conference this week, expressed themselves in favor of holding the presidential preference primary in the spring and the general state primary in the fall, the conference action was not binding and the members are free to vote as they choose.

A STRONG PROTEST.

Editor Journal:

I wish to express publicly the hearty approval of the First Ward school patrons and taxpayers relative to the action taken Friday evening at the Jacksonville Parent-Teachers' association meeting regarding the re-opening of our little independence school. This action is an indication of the broad minded community interest and the recognition of rank injustice and unfair treatment as felt by the entire parent body of our city toward its smallest public school. This interest, we individually and collectively, most sincerely appreciate.

The high-handed advantage taken of us without one word of consultation, completely ignoring our rights as taxpayers, voters and school patrons and depriving us of a school which has been in continual operation for the past 35 years and which is an absolute necessity in our community, is intolerable and presents to us a situation which we cannot accept.

Any fair minded citizen can readily see our condition. Our main building, the Jefferson school, is situated, not in or near the center of the ward, but in its farthest and most extreme corner, necessitating a walk of one mile and a half for many of our children, the crossing of two railroad tracks and through streets where there are, in many cases no sidewalks and in most cases extremely poor ones.

It is fair then to compel the youngest of these children to overcome these disagreeable and dangerous conditions, while together with these things rests the fact that some of these little children are poorly clad, shod and nourished and wholly unable to withstand the exposure of the winter?

We understand there were about 35 children enrolled in the branch school this year and that many more are waiting to enter next September.

Is not the health and safety of this number of children who need this protection most, worth something to this community? Is not our financial condition such or could it ever become such, as to make advisable this unjust, inconsiderate and inhumane policy?

Are the parents of these children the tax payers and supporters of our schools in equal proportion to our property possessions, not entitled to a fair deal?

We ask for the re-opening of our branch school. We ask for the continuation of the school nurse and we ask too for the reinstatement of Miss White as principal of the David Prince school, because these are our common interests. There are many other things we very much deplore and would like to see changed, but these things we must have.

Taxpayer.

MAVERICKS

Walt Mason sings of daffodils and brown October ale but in his verse he has some words that make us all turn pale. He says there's nothing good about these daffodils, except to make the poor man work until they bust their hives. The brown October ale, he says, brings many pains and aches, but men will have it anyway. If every daffodil takes, we know each word he speaks is true; that this is good advice, but we think we'll try to keep them both so long as we can raise the price.

Many people think the steel trust is appropriately named, except that the word is not spelled properly.

Mrs. John Toombs advertises rooms for rent, furnished or unfurnished. It should be a nice quiet place.

An exchange says that Mrs. Mary Gaines had a mass of new potatoes last week. No further bulletin has been received.

It is probable that by the time the United States and Germany get through exchanging notes the war will be over.

What is the use of going to Mud-lavie and spending your money. One could get a first-class mud bath at home any time the last few days.

Dr. Blackwell, osteopath, one block north of Morey's barn. It is presumed that everybody knows where Morey's barn is located.

Perhaps taking the last letter of Przemysl is an indication of its pronunciation, the only word we can think of that would rhyme with it is not used in good society.

Wearing an algortie on the hat is punishable by a fine. The women need not worry, however, as not one policeman in a thousand would know an algortie if it spoke to him on the street.

The policemen in Quincy are taking their vacations. The average citizen probably is of the opinion that policemen have a perpetual vacation.

One redeeming feature about the siege of Przemysl is that the poets can't write poems about it. Not being able to pronounce it, one is at loss to find a word that would rhyme with it.

After one reads the dispatches from the front of the Allies and the Germans one begins to wonder how they move in and out of positions so quickly. If each side is to be believed, some of the positions are taken about every ten seconds.

The news tells us of a man who fell out of a cherry tree near Fall creek. The attending physician says that his injuries make his condition critical. The physician's name is Gabriel, and it would seem that he ought to be able to raise him.

The mother's congress at Lockport said that men could no longer be trusted. That the day of chivalry has passed and men had fallen under the allurements of the modern waists. That is a harsh thing for the mothers to say when we still number J. Ham Lewis and his whiskers in our population.

A woman in Evansville, Ind., 70 years old, is going to divorce her thirteenth husband and marry her fourteenth. She says she wins men with flattery. She would be a good candidate for president on the suffrage ticket.

The graduating exercises of the Carlville high school were held in the circuit court room. The Enquirer says that the court room added impressiveness to the event. It should, when one considers the cost of the court house. It is not many high school graduates that have the privilege of holding graduating exercises in a million dollar court house.

Jacksonville people are justly proud of Nichols park. It is true that we have no White City at the park but W. R. Miser has for the past year been furnishing some amusement for patrons of the park. During the last twelve months those who journeyed to the park looked forward with great joy to the ride over the south end street car line. It was better than the "Rocky Road to Dublin." Now Mr. Miser is going to change all of this. He is replacing the track between Michigan avenue and the terminals on the Vandalia road. It's a shame and it is up to the park commission to install a shuttle or some other form of amusement to take the place of Mr. Miser's attraction.

The following example of reporting is taken from the Lone Star, a paper printed at the State School for the Deaf at Austin. Also is given a comment on it from the Gavelton News. Both are worth places in your scrapbook:

It rained very hard a few days ago. Some people were drowned. The water washed many homes away. Mrs. Richardson was afraid her little chickens would drown. She put them into the barn. They did not drown. Some of Mr. Davis' little chickens were drowned.

"Oh, little reporter—little deaf and dumb reporter, whose years are so few and whose experiences so far so little sorrowful—yours is the tiny cup so readily filled with blessings. To you the tragedy of the chickens seemed worthy to be put into the same paragraph with the really heart-wringing dramas of the flood. There are for you compensations in the silent life you lead. Few or none of your ships are Lusitanias, and while many others are tossed and torn upon thundrous seas your little craft sails smoothly, your chart and compass reposing in the hollow of the Almighty hand. Though your lips be still, your message does not fall short of the ear of God, and though your ears be sealed the Choir invisible choruses in your soul. Oh, little deaf and dumb reporter, the world is so small to you that heaven bends down close to your head."

Who Will Manage Your Estate?

SOMEONE will have charge of your affairs after you are gone. You should name that person in a will; otherwise a court will appoint someone—perhaps one not familiar with your estate.

If you name an individual, he may die in the midst of administering your estate. If he does survive, he may be taken sick, move away or become overburdened with his own affairs.

If you do not provide for the settlement of your estate by will, it will be administered under laws made to fit every estate—it will have to be settled in a specified time. Your estate may require time to realize its full value—may require such administration as can only be had under your written authority given by a will.

Appoint this company executor of your will and trustee of your estate. It makes a business of handling estates, has the facilities for doing so, is always accessible, is permanent and safe. The cost is no more than would be paid an individual in like capacity.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE LOSES TO NORMAL

DEFEATED IN AN INTERESTING GAME BY SCORE OF 4 TO 6.

Fanning, the new Recruit for Illinois Hurlled a Fine Game and Hitting Was a Feature but He Lacked Support—Illinois Plays Millikin Tomorrow.

Illinois college lost to Normal, university on Illinois field Saturday afternoon by a score of 4 to 6. The game was an interesting one from start to finish. The bright spot in Illinois record was Fanning's pitching and batting. He allowed only four hits with errors behind him at critical times placed Normal in the position to score. His own two terrific drives, one for three bases and the other for two bases scored three of the Illinois' runs and he scored the other himself. He was a trifle wild in the box but had been given the proper support by his teammates he would have had no trouble in winning his first game.

Illinois vs. Millikin. Illinois is expecting a fast game with Millikin Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. When Illinois played at Decatur two weeks ago Millikin won by a score of two to nothing. Atchison held the Millikin sluggers to two hits, but lost because of the inability of the Illinois batters to solve Rentschler's curves. Illinois expects to close the season by trimming them.

How the Scores Were Made. Normal scored in the first inning after two were out. Hamill drew a base on balls. McLaren hit a grounder to Stewart, the ball took a bad bound just as it got to him and went over his head. Harmon who was backing him up intercepted the ball and threw wild to Stewart who covered first base. Hamill continued going to third and when McLaren tried to go to second on the over throw and was caught between first and second, Hamill made a break for home. Stewart's throw caught him went wide from the plate and he scored.

Normal added three more in the second inning, on a single by Waitzen and an out, a fielder's choice, a sacrifice hit, base on balls, a hit batter and an error. One more came in the third, on a base on balls, fielder's choice and a single. The last run was made in the seventh when Benjamin, who had taken up the pitching for Normal opened with a double. Thompson and Chism were easy outs. Then Hamill drove a terrific three bagger in to the top of the trees near the gymnasium.

Illinois wasted a single by Harmon in the first inning. One run came in the second inning, as the result of a base on balls to Jones, followed by a three base line drive by Fanning. Three runs were scored in the fourth, on a single by Jones, a fielder's choice on Whisler's grounder on which he and Jones both were safe, followed by a second line drive by Fanning, this time for two bases. Darragh was hit by a pitched ball and while Normal was trying to catch him off second, Fanning broke for the plate and scored. In the fifth inning, Benjamin replaced Paddock in the hurling for Normal and during the remainder of the game Illinois batters were unable to drive a run across.

ACADEMY ALUMNAE I N ANNUAL REUNION

MRS. H. T. WILLSON OF VIRDEN
SPEAKS ON ART.

Graduates and Former Students of Academy, Atheneum and Conservatory Meet Saturday Afternoon for Season of Pleasure and Profit.

Alumnae and former students of the Jacksonville Female Academy, the Atheneum and the Conservatory of Music enjoyed a pleasing program Saturday afternoon at their annual reunion, held this year in the audience room at Academy hall. Mrs. Howard T. Willson of Virden was speaker of the afternoon. Her subject was "Art Not a Luxury, but a Necessity," and the paper met with excellent favor.

Officers for the year ensuing were elected by the alumnae in business session. The report of the nominating committee was presented by Miss Grace Carter. The new officers are: President—Miss Carrie Dunlap. Vice president—Miss Idella Walton.

Recording secretary—Mrs. Fay Marsh Tomlinson.

Treasurer—Miss Anna McCormick.

Dr. A. B. Morey opened the meeting with prayer and Miss Carrie Dunlap read the minutes of the last annual meeting. In her address of welcome Mrs. Mary T. Carriel, outgoing president, mentioned three graduates of former years who by their lives of uprightness and usefulness deserve to be remembered by graduates of later days. Mrs. Carriel told something of the life and character of Mrs. Effie Smith Lansden, '61 of Cairo, Ill.; Mrs. Emma Allerman Garbutt, '63, Los Angeles, Cal.; and Mrs. Ellie Post Jekis, '64, of Wray, Colo.

Miss Ruth Leach sang "Maid of Cadiz" by Delibes and "When the Heart is Young" by Dudley Buck. For an encore she gave "In My Garden" with Miss Rachel Jerauld as accompanist. Miss Leach possesses a beautiful voice of wide range and pleasing quality. Her artistic interpretation in the three numbers was exceedingly delightful.

Mrs. Bryan Sends Greeting.

Letters from the following were read by Miss Emma Reynolds, chairman of the invitation committee: Mrs. Carpenter, '62; Mrs. S. W. Eldred, Mrs. A. E. Eldred and Mrs. Wilson; Mrs. Iga Herold and Mrs. Dr. Jane Scherzer, Mrs. Maria Gilbert McConnell, '55; Mrs. Mary B. Bryan, Washington, D. C., wife of the secretary of state; Mrs. Stella Prince Stocker, Duluth, Minn.; and Mrs. Ida Scott Taylor McKinney, Dewitt, Ia.

Dr. Isabelle S. Smith, reporting for the cabinet committee, displayed among several objects of interest a rare fossil from Missouri, the gift of the late Judge Fagg.

It was voted to send greetings to Mrs. William D. Sanders, who is kept at home by illness. Resolutions of regret will be sent the relatives of Mrs. Catherine Willey, Lake Forest, Ill., who perished in the Lusitania while on her way to Paris. Mrs. Willey will be known to many here as Miss Catherine Deltrich.

A vocal solo by Miss Mabel Matthews, with Miss Alice Mathis accompanying, was much enjoyed. Miss Matthews sang, in her usual happy manner, "I Am Thy Harp" by Woodman, "Floods of Spring" by Rachmaninoff. After the address, by Mrs. Myra Henderson Willson, Miss Alma Forsythe favored the company with most delightful violin selections. She played the Viennese melody of Gaertner-Kreisler and the "Russisch" of Zimballist, giving a short number in response to a hearty encore.

Mrs. Fanny Denby Leach and Mrs. Bird Carriel Roberts were hostesses at the social hour following the program, when dainty refreshments were served.

Toward the close of an address of special interest, Mrs. Willson said in part:

An Art Exhibition must be democratic, if successful. I should like to see exhibits of every branch of Fine and Industrial Arts hung in our galleries each year. An Art Gallery should from month to month appeal to every citizen in the community in some very intimate way.

Pageantry is today experiencing a revival in this country and should be welcomed by promoters of art, as it is recognized as a powerful means of making art a recognized essential in the life of a people. Pageantry is of the people, and for the people. To re-create and interpret local history, either past or present. Pageantry is an extremely interesting dramatic form; it not only results in a truer understanding of the history of the community but causes a growth of local pride and consequently a stronger community spirit.

At this time it seems fitting to recall some of the many sayings of our great artist John W. Alexander, taken out of the Art World of America, this past week by the grim reaper.

Mr. Alexander was one of the most sanguine men in this country of the ultimate success of American Art. He said once, "That we began as a nation with imported taste for art, a taste confined almost exclusively to those people keeping in touch with Europe."

"Very gradually all over our country conditions have changed and an interest in art has grown with astonishing rapidity. Nature has made creatures only; art has made men," but every form of artistic activity is not art. The fine arts have an influence which is vital and inspiring.

The Art Association Purpose.

An Art Association supplies not only that inspiration but it awakens the public to generous impulses to gratify that inspiration. It encourages both men and women to join in an uplift movement which develops the taste and gives joy to thousands.

With such vitality aroused and the aid of a City Art Commission any city may feel assured of her progress in educational and civic lines.

In an address made by Mr. Robinson of the Columbia University he said, "Art is not to be regarded as one of the luxuries of life. It would be a great mistake to so regard it. It is the natural expression of an instinct which every man and woman possesses—though not all to an equal degree,—the instinct of beauty,—and one of the great works in which museums today are occupied is the cultivation of that instinct among our people."

Now, no great period in art in the past has ever flourished without co-operation between the layman and the artist. It is the artist who creates, and the intelligent layman who gives sympathetic criticism and appreciation. There is nothing so needed today in America as men and women who are willing to occupy themselves with public questions in connection with the fine arts, such as civic architecture, decorating of public buildings and parks; supporting permanent Art Galleries, where the best may be seen—and seen again.

It is not merely patronage which the arts need,—it is intelligent criticism, and for that kind of criticism they have a right to look to the graduates of great schools who ought to be prepared to take their part in the civic life of the community to which they belong. We should endeavor to leave the world more beautiful than we found it. The greatest happiness comes, we all know, through immaterial things. Are not we therefore doing that which is worth while when we open the doors and point the way to such enjoyment?

Art enriches the individual and the nation, spiritually and materially, creating a more perfect civilization.

Your body cannot do a more lasting work than to promote Art.

SPECIAL REDUCTIONS IN ALL DEPARTMENTS THIS WEEK AT HERMAN'S.

IS DRAPED IN MOURNING.

The Routt College building has been draped in mourning because of the death of Harvey J. Routt, its great benefactor.

Venice, May 10—During the debates in the Hungarian parliament, the army contract scandals were given an extensive airing, although few new facts were developed. There was a unanimous demand from the speakers for a complete public exposure of the culprits. The chief criticism was directed at the graft in clothing, shoes and canned meats.

One of the meat contractors, who is alleged to have supplied bad meat at a profit to himself of over $100,000, has just been imprisoned. It was also developed that peasant farmers who sold horses and grain to contractors on army requisitions have in many cases either not been paid at all or paid only a small part of the contract price.

One speaker charged that the army contractors were endeavoring to impose silence on the press by giving out extensive advertising.

PHYSICIANS ON RECORD

AGAINST OPTOMETRY BILL

Medical Club in Session at Colonial Inn Discourages Measures.

At a meeting of the Medical club last evening at Colonial Inn a resolution was passed recommending the defeat of House Bill No. 9, known as the Optometry bill, and providing for license of optometrists. This measure proposes to lend the sanction of state authority to practitioners of little preparation. It is stated. Twenty physicians were present at this meeting of the club and a profitable evening was enjoyed through the hospitality of Dr. F. A. Norris.

Dr. Walter L. Frank read the paper of the evening. In "Anaesthesia, Old and New" he told in succinct manner the history of this great discovery, comparing modern medical practice to the crude methods of several decades ago.

Dr. J. R. Newcomb of Indianapolis who is visiting in the city, was a guest of the club. After the reading of the paper Dr. Newcomb and Dr. George H. Stacy lead a very interesting discussion.

Dr. Allen M. King will entertain the club at Colonial Inn two weeks hence.

FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.
(By Associated Press)

Ternuzen, Netherlands, June 5.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—This little fortified Dutch town in ordinary times is a customs office of minor consequence, but has come to be the principal port of communication between the Netherlands and Belgium. As rail communication with Antwerp is so uncertain as to be practically cut off, that most fertile and before its domination by war, most populous section of all Europe, which lies about the Belgian city of Ghent, finds its sole outlet by canal or all to Ternuzen, thence by boat across the Scheldt to Flushing, thence again by rail to Rotterdam, Amsterdam and The Hague, or by the cross-channel steamers to England and the outer world.

As the export of almost everything produced in Belgium has been forbidden by the military authorities in occupation, Ternuzen is not in danger of being swamped by the sudden influx of trade. At least one curious product of Belgian intensive agriculture, however, is still freely exported to Holland—indeed, is even more freely exported than ever before, since there is now no demand for it in Belgium. This product is cut orchids for the retail florists' trade. Every day there pass through this port scores of light boxes, consigned to florists in Amsterdam, The Hague, Rotterdam and even to England, containing hundreds of orchids of many species, carefully packed in cotton and in tissue paper. The two small towns of Nieuw-Beke, between Ghent and Termonde, and Loochicht, in the Wacs, furnish them, and are famous among florists throughout Europe for their orchid houses. Owing to their nearness to these points the larger cities of the Netherlands have always been heavy purchasers of these beautiful and exotic plants, and the flower shop windows of Amsterdam and The Hague have for years been gorgeous bowers of exquisite coloring and rare form through their display of orchids.

Paris, June 5.—The conscripts of the contingent of 1917 are finding the medical examining board unusually severe in their decisions. Only boys of exceptionally good physical development are being accepted, the rejections in Paris being estimated at nearly 70 per cent of the number examined.

New medical examinations have been ordered for all men who have been incorporated in auxiliary service since the war began, with a view to transferring to the active service such as are now physically ill.

Hull, England, June 5.—A flying squadron of munition workers, to be known as the "King's Squad," is being organized here. It will contain several thousand expert mechanics, men hitherto engaged in work for private corporations, who can be moved quickly from shop to shop as required to do emergency work.

Berlin, June 5.—The German Agricultural Council, a semi-official organization of farmers, has been meeting in Berlin to consider war plans for the harvest year 1915-16. Resolutions were passed declaring that the continuance of the economic and agricultural measures adopted during the past nine months will enable Germany easily to face the future, no matter how long the war may last.

London, June 5.—The price of a soldier's khaki uniform before the war was $10.97, according to figures made public during the latest session of parliament. At present the cost is about $2.60 more.

Berlin, June 5.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—The changes that the present war may render necessary in the decrease of The Hague convention are discussed at considerable length in an article by Professor Sigard Isen, which is prominently published in the Voessische Zeitung. New conditions and developments without precedent in former history, says Professor Isen, must be provided for in new regulations and treaties. In naval warfare, for example, he observes:

"The right to wage war at sea must be regulated anew. In fact, this has never been established on a firm basis. But no one could have foreseen that it rested on a foundation so utterly unstable as events have proved."

"There have been many attempts to place the law for war at sea on a firm foundation. The second Hague convention and the London conference of 1909 drew up a whole list of regulations in relation to sea warfare which altogether made a complete book of statutes on the subject. But the difficulty was that many of these regulations were either rendered unworkable by reservations or did not gain the force of law through failure to obtain recognition from the governments concerned. This was the fate of the most important volume of declarations, the oft-quoted London Declaration, and England was able very soon, without announcing any formal breach of the law, to overstep the boundaries of the agreement. Naturally Germany went in for reprisals, and the result is a sea warfare which stands in contradiction to almost every international right that has so far been laid down."

"However uncertain the obligations were in the past, there were certain limitations which could not be overstepped. But it seems that at present there is no limitation to the claim of every state to do as it pleases. The law of contraband has received a development which no one foresaw. The trade and the shipping of neutral countries have been placed under a control which has become humiliating. The sinking of enemy merchant ships, which formerly was allowed only when unavoidable, has now become a regular practice.

"This condition of things is due to the working of two factors. In the first place, sea warfare has become a much more intensive way than heretofore, anyone could have believed, a battle of financial weapons, a bitter fight for the means of existence. In the second place, the improvement of the modern means of war, in particular the submarines and mines, has developed a kind of war which is without precedent in former history and which falls by necessity outside the range of international law, which was adapted to conditions very different from the present."

"All this must be put right at the next Hague conference. It will be the aim of the conference to make international law as far as possible square with these new facts. More than this one cannot say at the present moment. No one can say what regulations will be drawn up for contraband, blockades and other matters of this kind, or what code of conduct can be drawn up for combatants in this sphere of warfare, or what can be conceded to neutrals."

"These regulations must be drawn up in the light of experience and according to the power and influence which different states or groups of states can exercise. Anything, however, will be better than the present loose arrangement."

The writer, turning to the international regulations governing military and field operations, maintains that international rights have been ignored by the French and English in their treatment of enemy subjects and enemy property in their countries.

As to humanizing warfare, Professor Isen has little hope of international law being able to accomplish much. "Warfare, instead of being humanized," he remarks, "must necessarily become more and more frightful in accordance with the ceaseless development of technical skill in the provision of new and more perfect weapons. It is an illusion to believe that war can be waged in gentler fashion. There is only one proposition worth considering, and that is to see that no occasion arises for war. This, however, is not the work of international law, but of politicians and diplomats."

Copenhagen, May 25.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Hamilton Jackson, a negro representative of the native population in the Danish West Indies, has arrived in Copenhagen and conferred with the minister of finance and other government officials concerning grievances his constituents have against L. C. Helweg-Larsen, present governor of the islands and his administration. Jackson urged that the negro be permitted to vote, as all most every negro under 36 years of age is now able to read and write. He also urged improvement in the sanitary conditions and changes in the economic situation. The negroes asked through Jackson for the privilege of printing their own newspaper and holding public meetings. The minister of finance gave Jackson an attentive hearing and a state conference has been arranged for a date in June when the governor, who is now on his way home, will discuss the insular situation with other officials. Jackson and his followers contend that another governor and a radical reform administration must be provided which is in sympathy with the progressive movement in the islands.

five population before the unrest can be quieted.

Paris, May 31.—Cakes, ices and fruit have supplanted the after-theatre supper. Playgoers who before Gallieni's reign went to the restaurant or cafe now rush to the pastries who have amply fallen into the custom and keep open until after midnight. Those who have on a thirst to quench find fruit at the first corner. All along the lead-off thoroughfares in the vicinity of theatres orange girls, surrounded by crowds of eager customers, have become a familiar figure and promise to become a permanent feature of night life in Paris.

FINANCIAL BATTLE OVER
PERE MARQUETTE ROAD

Last Desperate Fight to Save Bankrupt Road From the Hammer.

Detroit, Mich., June 6.—A last desperate attempt to adjust the indebtedness of the Pere Marquette railway is being planned for Monday, when the motion to sell the road for the benefit of its preferred bondholders comes up in the federal district court. Judge Tuttle recently ordered the sale of the road at a price around $40,000,000, to cover the debts of the court as guardian of the road since its failure and the claims of the underlying bondholders. The date of the sale has been fixed at October 1, 1915.

Claims against the Pere Marquette are said to total some $88,000,000. The underlying bondholders have petitioned for the sale of the road. Although the sale would probably bring over $40,000,000, the main loss would fall on the secondary bondholders, who have secured a few weeks' time to effect a plan of reorganization, so that all claims could be satisfied without such an enormous loss to them. The plan, if successful, will be explained to Judge Tuttle on Monday, and he will rule as to whether the sale of the road will be necessary.

The claim has been repeatedly made that some of the bigger railroad interests are behind the move to force the sale, in order that they may get control of the Pere Marquette. Although the road is bankrupt and now in the hands of a receiver, investigations by the interstate commerce commission have revealed that the financial handling of the road is one of the contributing causes of the downfall. Losses running into millions were revealed in the testimony heard here last December. One transaction alone involved a net loss of $10,000,000, through the sale of bonds by J. P. Morgan & Co. under the hammer. It was shown that the road sacrificed $2,500,000 through discounts on note and bond issues, which amount had been charged up to the cost of property account. Furthermore, $2,500,000 was shown by the books to have been paid out for current liabilities during the past fourteen years without corresponding benefit to the road.

According to the records read by Auditor Sikes of the road, at the investigation last December, the Pere Marquette sold to the Morgan firm in 1900, $8,000,000 in notes, and received $7,600,000 in cash for them. In the deal the road transferred to the New York financiers as collateral the sum of $16,000,000 in bonds. When in 1905 the Morgans had been unable to collect on the notes, they sold the $16,000,000 worth of bonds under the hammer, obtaining only $6,000,000 for them. This amount still lacked $2,000,000 of paying the note issue and left the road with not only the $2,000,000 balance on notes, but the burden of paying off the $16,000,000 worth of bonds. This matter involved a legal question which is in the courts.

SAFETY RULES OUTLINED FOR ALL CLASSES OF PEOPLE

Ten Golden Rules Given by Safety Inspector of Chicago Surface Lines.

The following rules for the safety of grownups was recently given by the safety inspector in Chicago:

First—Safety. Scientific right thinking. Think right and you will act right. Look at it from the other fellow's viewpoint.

Second—Co-operate with him to use the streets, sidewalks, cars and buildings on the equal right basis of traffic.

Three—Pedestrians on the streets, give an equal right to that automobile, street car or other pedestrian.

Four—Owners and operators of automobiles, respect the rights of others, the pedestrians on the streets have as much right to the use of that street as you have, and your forcing them to submit to your domination will call for drastic legislation on car users.

Five—Mr. Business Man, you may be the brightest man in town in other ways, yet if you get in front of an automobile or street car, which are not respecters of person, you will be hurt more than the man in the so-called lower walk of life. Look both ways before alighting from a street car and before leaving sidewalk to board a car.

Six—Owners and operators of auto trucks see that your trucks are operated more carefully, especially in the congested districts and in the vicinity of schools, as the daily toll of injuries to children will force severe penalty if the remedy of carelessness is not applied at once.

Seven—Everyone, stop, look and think "safety" before you cross a congested street or pass behind a car, automobile or wagon. Always see what is on the other side of the object you are passing. Cross the street on a cross walk. Don't start until you know it's safe to cross, then keep on going, don't stop and turn back. Don't run, walk fast. Don't rock the boat when out rowing or canoeing. Go ashore and change seats. Don't take chances when in bathing. Do not coast on an unguarded hill, as you may coast into that street car, auto or wagon. Don't hitch your sled onto an auto or wagon.

Eight—All users of the street, do not crowd pedestrians into a place of danger with your automobile, wagon or street car, or dash into a crowd on the cross-walk in the absence of a crossing policeman, and even if the policeman is at that crossing and gives you the signal to proceed, go safely and carefully. All drivers of vehicles, avoid accidents by not driving in the street car tracks; you also delay the passengers by using the tracks. Always look out for street cars when you cross tracks. Always look for other car, the one on the track, when you drive behind a car. Look for car before you swing onto tracks, never swing to left in passing a street car. Stop, look and listen before you drive onto a railroad track.

Nine—All users of the street, remember the child and the aged. You were a child once and know how much you looked up to your elders and followed their example and depended upon them. Help that child by your example of safety and assist the aged, as you will probably reach that advanced age in the future.

Ten—Get the safety habit; practice it and help others acquire the same habit.

THE STATE UTILITIES COMMISSION AND CORPORATIONS.

I have a great admiration for Judge Thompson as a jurist, but think he is a misfit on the state board of utilities, as he will be hampered by using the court rules of evidence and decide cases by evidence brought before him and not pay any attention to what information he may know from outside sources, and the corporations have the money to supply any evidence they need. That makes Chicago want home rule, even if they know they have grafters, as all cities have, even Jacksonville has made some rich who had no other visible support. But the grafter is a liberal cuss. Boss Tweed used to give $50,000 to the poor of New York on Christmas and the Chicago boss will allow the people some privileges. If the corporations were in the saddle the dear people would get nothing, as the corporations' opinion of the people was expressed by Commodore Vanderbilt, who was not a Y. M. C. A. man, in words which were more forcible than elegant. Judge Thompson knew that the street railway occupied the streets of Jacksonville without a franchise or any legal authority and has never paid one dollar to the city for the use of them and does not supply the citizens with the needed transportation, but as that evidence was not before him, he rules that a private citizen must not run his automobiles for hire on the streets if the street railway objects to them. We should have home rule the same as Chicago, who, when a street needs transportation, orders the street railway to extend their lines on that street. If they were under the state utilities, according to the Thompson decision, they would be told they could do either of three things, move on some street that had a car line, or buy an automobile or walk. But be sure not to bother the railway corporation. The state utility act created a trust, taking away the control of the cities of the state and putting it in the hands of a committee located at Springfield. The act is not in accordance with a democratic form of government and should be repealed. A. Platt.

Political Lieutenants of Rofrano Will Be Placed on Trial Monday.

New York, June 6.—It is the intention of District Attorney Perkins to place on trial Monday Rocks Cornwell and Frank Fennimore, political lieutenants of Deputy Street Cleaning Commissioner Rofrano, for the murder of Michael Gaimari, a political worker for a rival of Rofrano, Thomas P. Foley, of Tammany.

According to the claims of the prosecutors, a conspiracy will be unfolded that will rival and perhaps overshadow the Rosenthal crime, in which figured Police Lieutenant Becker and his gangsters.

Gaetano Montimagno, the man who did the killing of Gaimari, has been convicted of murder in the first degree in the supreme court. It is the contention of the prosecutors that the deed was inspired by those "higher up," and evidence was introduced at the trial to show that Rocks Cornwell had told Montimagno that he would pay $300 for his murder. The district attorney stated to the court that the Gaimari murder case more nearly concerns the administration of public justice than even the events that led up to the murder of Herman Rosenthal. "In the case of Becker," he stated, "he was fighting for his position and to escape prison. In the case of Montimagno the killing was the result of an effort at political supremacy dictated by no motive arising from necessity, but purely an ordered assassination unparalleled in the history of the city. The conviction of Montimagno again demonstrates that it is possible to hire an assassin in this city for a paltry sum and that there are persons who are prepared to resort to the crime of murder for attainment of personal ends. The efforts of this office will be prosecuted vigorously until the fountain head of this murder conspiracy is brought to justice."

IRVING JONES COMING.
Manager Johnson announced for his vaudeville attraction next week, the famous Irving Jones. Many of the older theatre goers will remember Irving Jones: He came here with Isham's Octoroons in 1897 when Frank and Ed Mallory were with the company. Included in that company was Madame Flower, Fred Piper and Ada Hyer and it was probably the greatest aggregation of singers ever gotten together in a colored company, not even excepting Williams and Walker. At the time Mr. Jones appeared here with the Octoroons Manager Ravenscroft put on a cake walk, they being the rage at the time. Jones won the cake walk because he had made such a hit singing one of his songs, "Honey, I Can't Live on Love." Mr. Jones has written a number of good songs and no doubt will be greeted by a large audience.

PITCHING OF FOSTER BAFFLES ROWLAND'S SOX

BOSTON WINS FROM CHICAGO
4 TO 2.

Chicago Players Claim Triple Play in Second Inning When Carrigan Hit to Center, Scoring Two Runners—Ump's Rule That Runs Count.

Boston, June 5.—The league leaders were baffled by the pitching of Foster today, Boston winning from Chicago 4 to 2.

Chicago players claimed a triple play in the second inning when Carrigan hit to center field, scoring two runners. Quinlan insisted that he caught Carrigan's hit and threw to the infielders, who touched out two men. But the umpires ruled that the ball was trapped and the runs counted.

Speaker, who was struck in the head by a pitched ball yesterday, will be out of the game several days.

ST. LOUIS TAKES BOTH GAMES OF DOUBLE HEADER FROM WHALES

Good Pitching, Batting and Fielding Are Responsible for Double Win—Stouffs Make Clean Sweep of Five Game Series.

Chicago, June 5.—Good pitching, batting and fielding gave St. Louis a double win over Chicago today, 6 to 4 and 6 to 0, the visitors making a clean sweep of the five game series. After running around the bases on his home run in the fourth inning of the first game, Hendrix was pounded for five hits, including Vaughn's triple, which netted the visitors six runs.

After that and before it there were no hits off him and no one reached second base. Davenport relieved Watson for St. Louis when the latter wavered and blanked Chicago for the last part.

In the second game Crandall was invincible and errors spoiled what little chance Prendergast had to hold down St. Louis.

DOYLE AND PERRITT ARE VISITORS' HEROES.

New York Captain Makes Four Hits Two of Them Doubles and One a Triple—Perritt Pitches in Fine Form.

Chicago, June 5.—Captain Larry Doyle and Pitcher Perritt were the heroes for the visitors today when the easterners shutout Chicago, 3 to 0, in the first game of their initial western invasion of the season.

Doyle made four of the visitors' hits. Two of them were doubles and one a triple. He drove in two of the runs for his club and fielded in sensational form.

Perritt pitched in fine form and held Chicago to four scattered hits.

"MORNING GLANCES"

(By Gosh)

Eddie Collins got a triple and scored one of Chicago's two runs in the game yesterday.

The Athletics bombarded Lowdermilk in the sixth inning and beat St. Louis 4 to 2.

The lowly Reds beat the Boston Braves 6 to 3. Four successive hits and a sacrifice fly gave Cincinnati four runs in the seventh inning.

Jim Scott beamed Tris Speaker in Friday's game at Boston and he will be out of the game for some time. Jim used to have that habit in the Central Association.

Alexander of the Phillies held St. Louis hitless Saturday and in the ninth with two down Butler spoiled it with a single. We wonder what Alexander said.

Normal proved too much for Illinois Saturday. The final score was 6 to 4 in favor of Normal. Inability to hit the Normal pitcher was the main reason for Illinois' defeat.

Cleveland defeated Washington Saturday 5 to 4. Incidentally they beat Walter Johnson, a privilege that many teams don't get. The Indians nicked the great Walter for eleven hits.

After holding Pittsburgh to two hits and one run for eight innings Pittsburgh fell on Johnson for a double, a triple and a single and scored three runs, beating Kansas City 4 to 1.

The Whales continue to drop. St. Louis beat them two games Saturday. One of St. Louis' victims was Claude Hendrix who is supposed to be the Whales' crack pitcher.

Kaiserling who used to pitch for Champaign-Urbana in the Illinois-Missouri league won a game from Buffalo Saturday. He had a horse shoe concealed about his person, however as he passed seven men in addition to being wild.

Foster pitching for the Red Sox put the Indian sign on Rowland's White Sox yesterday. He held them to four hits and the score was 4 to 2. Quinlan claimed to have caught a ball in center and started a triple play. The umpire, however, ruled that Quinlan trapped the ball.

That was some conference meet at Urbana when Wisconsin nosed Chicago out of first honors by one point. Records went by the board. Simpson of Missouri tied the world's record for the 120 yard hurdles making the time in fifteen seconds. He lowered

Flush Your Blood Get it Cleansed

Remarkable Remedy That Works All Through Your Body.

When you put a tablespoonful of S. S. S. into your stomach it gets straight into your blood. In less than five minutes it has become a wave of restorative influence wherever the blood has circulated. Does this read like magic? But it is absolutely true. Those powerful digestive juices in the stomach can not change the medicinal effect of S. S. S. The liver can not burn it. The lungs, skin and kidneys excrete it only after S. S. S. has set in motion millions of cells and nerves to throw off the countless germs that have infested every part of the body. And as S. S. S. continues to battle those troublesome pests that gather in the form of pimples, boils, eczema, acne, catarrh, rheumatism and other so-called blood disorders, it rouses into action a myriad of strange but well-understood corpuscles called leucocytes that actually devour or change or convert disease germs so they are readily and quickly cast out of the body. It is probably the best appreciated blood medicine known. You will find S. S. S. on sale in nearly every drug store in the U. S. Get a bottle today. And if your case is peculiar, write to the Medical Department, The Swift Specific Co., 105 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. It is conducted by a noted physician.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE NOTES

Trustees, faculty, alumni, alumnae and students who are to participate in the procession for the baccalaureate service are urged to be at the State Street church promptly at 10:30 on Sunday morning.

All friends of the college are cordially invited to the Osage Orange picnic at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon. Each group brings its own lunch. The college furnishes free coffee for all and a caterer will be on the campus with ice cream.

It is expected that Mr. E. F. Goitra, ex-'82, of St. Louis, and Mr. J. F. Downing, '79, of Kansas City, will be present to attend the board meeting and commencement exercises Wednesday.

Judge Robert A. Campbell, ex-'84, of Bowling Green, Mo., is expected to attend the Phi Alpha love feast. Mr. Campbell was formerly lieutenant governor of Missouri and comptroller of the city of St. Louis. He has had a remarkably long and honorable public career.

Students and alumni are looking forward with great interest to the baseball game with Milligan Monday afternoon at Osage Orange day.

A union vesper service of Westminster, St. Louis, and the Congregational churches will be held on the campus at 7 o'clock Sunday. In case of inclement weather the service will be held in the college chapel.

Tickets for the alumni luncheon may be obtained at the local newspaper offices or reservation may be made by telephoning the president's office. All alumni, alumnae and officers of the institution and other guests are cordially invited. A. T. Capps, '85, and A. D. Fairbank, '90, are the committee in charge.

NOTABLE BIRTHDAYS TODAY.

June 6.
The Czarina of Russia, granddaughter of the late Queen Victoria of England, who is giving her personal effort and broad sympathies to the Russian Red Cross work in these terrible days of war, is 43 years old today. She and her daughters are constant in their devotion to the afflicted and are rendering practical aid to the wounded. The hospital is a sad place for royalty, but it is serving to bind the ties more closely between the classes. There has always been keen interest in the Czarina Alix, as the daughter of the beloved Princess Alice of England and for the remembrance of her beauty and simplicity as a girl in the small court at Hesse-Darmstadt. The czarina was born at Darmstadt, in Germany, on June 6, 1872. She had an English nurse and an English governess, was fond of open air sports, painted well and was a brilliant musician. She knew many languages and was an exceptional cook and housekeeper. She did plain and fancy sewing and often trimmed her own gowns and hats. Since her marriage to the czar few days of her life in Russia have reached the press. Her marriage was a happy one, without doubt. She met the Prince Nicholas when she was but 12. The old czar sent him on a tour of the world when he found there was an attachment for her. He sought an alliance with the royal family of Montenegro. Prince Nicholas finally found favor with Queen Victoria and with his father, and the wedding took place Nov. 26, 1894, in the water palace at Petrograd. She has four daughters and one son.

Sir Henry J. Newbold, famous English author, recently knighted, 53 years old today.

Madame Rejane, famous French actress, 58 years old today.

Rt. Rev. Michael J. Hoban, Catholic bishop of Scranton, 62 years old today.

Hon. John D. Hazen, Canadian minister of marine and fisheries, 55 years old today.

LAND O'NOD STORIES

BILLY LEARNS ABOUT THE COMPASS

Billy (Be By Bo Bum was as proud as a turkey cock. Yes sir, he was just as proud as a great big turkey gobbler strutting around the barnyard with his tail spread out like a fan for all the chickens and hen turkeys to admire. For you see his father had given him a brand new compass, and Billy was just itching for a chance to put it to use.

So after he had filled the wood box and helped his mother feed the chickens, he started off for the White Forest where he knew Tinker Teedle lived. The merry little elf, would be waiting for him. And sure enough, as he wriggled through a hole in the stump fence that separated the cow pasture from the big woods, he saw Tinker perched on a toadstool, the weeny copper kettle that served him for a hat cocked on the back of his head.

"Oh Tinker, see what daddy gave me," cried the boy, as the elf, who had spread his wings and flown to meet his little friend, alighted on Billy's shoulder.

"A sure enough compass, and a beauty too," said Tinker, polishing his glass front of the compass with his tiny handkerchief. "But tell me, Billy boy, do you know how to use it?"

"Father said the needle always pointed to the North, but I don't see why, do you Tinker?"

"Magnetism?" demanded Billy, who was rather surprised that such a tiny fellow as Tinker, who you know was only about as big as a minute should use such a big word as magnetism.

"Well that's mighty hard to answer," replied Tinker, scratching his chin with the point of one tiny foot. "Wise men who have studied it all their lives don't know just what it is, except that it is a form of electricity. But you know what a magnet is, don't you Billy Boy?"

"Sure I do," Billy replied. "It's a little steel horseshoe that picks up pieces of iron and nails. Santa Claus put one in my stocking last Christmas, but I lost it."

"Well the needle of this compass is a magnet," said Tinker. "Now if you will get out your jack knife, I'll show you a trick with a hole in it. Just hold the blade near the compass and see what happens."

Billy did as Tinker told him, and the needle, which had been pointing straight toward the North, turned around until it pointed at the blade of Billy's knife. As soon as he took the knife away, the needle went right to where it was before. Then he held the knife over the compass, and what do you think happened?

The needle spun around and around for all the world like a puppy chasing its tail.

"You see Billy, the needle is really a little magnet, and it wants to pick up your knife," explained Tinker Teedle. "But the knife is too heavy, so the needle does the next best thing, it tries to go to the knife."

"But even if the needle is a magnet I don't see why it goes it point toward the North," said Billy.

"Well you see the whole earth is a kind of magnet," replied the elf. "One end is called the North Pole and the other the South Pole, and the little magnet in your compass always tries to go to the North Pole when there is not a piece of iron or steel nearby to pull it the other way. So as long as you have your compass with you, you will never get lost, no matter how far from home you may be, for the needle always tells you which way to go. Its funny, but when anyone gets lost in the woods without a compass to guide them, they always walk around and around in a circle."

"Why do they do that?" asked Billy. "I should think they would keep going straight ahead until they found their way out of the woods."

"That's what they intend to do, but somehow or other they always come back to the place they started from."

"But the chief use of the compass," continued Tinker Teedle, "is to help sailors steer their ships across the wide ocean. With the aid of that little needle, a sailor can sail his vessel almost as straight as though it was on a railroad track."

"But how did the sailors steer their ships in the days before the compass was invented?" asked Billy.

"They had to depend on the sun and stars," replied Tinker. "And on a clear night the stars are as true a guide as a compass, for no matter in what part of the world you may be, the North Star is always in the same position, pointing out the right direction."

"How in the world can you tell the North Star?" demanded Billy, "when there are so many thousands of stars in the sky, and everyone looking just like the other?"

"But they don't all look alike," Tinker replied. "You know the Big Dipper when you see it, don't you Billy Boy?"

"Sure I do, Billy answered. 'Its that group of stars arranged exactly in the shape of a tin dipper. My father showed it to me one night last summer.'

"Well, sir, the next time you see the Big Dipper, just look straight ahead in the direction the handle is pointing, and the first star you see after the last one in the handle of the Big Dipper is the North Star. No matter in what part of the sky you see the Big Dipper, no matter if it is upside down or standing on end, the handle always points to the North Star."

"If it is clear tonight I'm going to look for it," Billy declared, and just then he heard the supper bell ring, so he said good night to Tinker Teedle and scampered off home.

It has already been announced that Dr. J. Edgar Blake has been secured for a big Sunday school day in Jacksonville, today. Dr. Blake is secretary of the Board of Sunday Schools for the Methodist church, and was secured by them. However his work will interest, and be helpful to all Sunday school workers, and all are cordially invited to his addresses, and especially his institute work in the afternoon. Dr. Blake has made a splendid record in his present position, and Jacksonville is fortunate to have him for the entire day.

He will speak at Grace church at the morning service, at 10:45 and will also address the Sunday school. At three p. m. he will conduct a conference for workers at Brooklyn church. Doubtless it will be more convenient for workers from other churches to attend this service. Then at night Dr. Blake will address a mass meeting at Centenary church. The public are invited to these meetings.

Suppose We Pared These Tires

Suppose this All-Weather tread—now double-thick—was pared to the thinness of the usual anti-skid. Would it endure like this one? Or so resist puncture?

Suppose we used—as some do—one less fabric ply. Or made the whole tire lighter. Suppose we omitted our exclusive features:

Our No-Rim-Cut feature—
Our "On-Air" cure—
Our rubber rivets—
Our 126-piano-wire base.

All rivals do omit them. All of them are costly. Our "On-Air" cure alone costs us $450,000 yearly to save needless blowouts. But could Goodyear Fortified Tires retain top place if we did not give those extras?

Cost Added
Prices
Lowered
Instead of that, we all the time add costly betterments. We spend on experts $100,000 yearly to seek out new improvements.

Our All-Weather tread—always double-thick—is made still thicker in some sizes.

Our Inner Tubes have been thickened 14 per cent on the average.

Our fabric has been strengthened.

Yet on February 1st we made our third big price reduction in two years, bringing the total to 45 per cent. Now you are getting in Goodyear Fortified Tires the best value ever known in tire making.

It is due to yourself that you this year join this army of contented tire users. It is by far the largest army in tire making. Any dealer will supply you. (2331)

She misses a great many of her former friends and relatives in the city and mentions especially the north side of West State street on which Ensley Moore is about the only one who seems at all familiar. All the old timers whom she knew in her youth being gone. She expects to go home by way of Rogers, Ark., to visit her son, William who is a delighted resident of the Ozarks.

SCARLET FEVER SITUATION.
The scarlet fever in Bluffs is still causing anxiety, says the Bluffs Times. It was hoped the epidemic had been checked but two new cases were reported this week, and several others were being closely watched.

The quarantine is being more rigidly enforced in regard to the youngsters, and while it was hoped it could be raised this week from present indications it will be some time, and all parents are urged for the sake of the little ones to act in conjunction with the authorities and keep the little people absolutely at home until such a time when all danger is passed.

So far all cases have been comparatively light which is something to be thankful for.

RATE HEARING POSTPONED.
Word has been received by Dr. Edward Bowe that the hearing on the rates of the local gas and electric companies which was set for June 11th, has been postponed. The commission has its subjects in Jacksonville at the present time going over the utility company's books. As soon as this work is completed the commission will set a date for a new hearing.

The motor oil that goes into your tank or crank case should have a pedigree back of it. For it means efficiency, smoothness of operation, protection and economy; or, it means wear, carbon trouble and expense, according to its quality.

Who makes your motor oil?

"Standard Oil" experts stand back of Polarine. Their experience with every kind of lubricating problem and with every make and type of standard motor car is worth purchasing, since it costs "per gallon of oil" the same as you are asked to pay for common oil, and saves that cost in repairs many times over.

August 20th to 29th.

ALBERS' MUSICAL OCTETTE

The Albers Musical Octette will be heard in two splendid programs afternoon and evening of Sunday, Aug. 22. Sunday evening they will present "The Crisis" in song and story, an historical picture of the Civil war period, depicting scenes in the north and in the south among the Blue and the Gray, commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg.

It is a program with a purpose, but none the less entertaining on that account. Into it are woven many of the old songs of the "before the war" period, as well as those brought out by the Civil conflict, both North and South. In the planning of the program the Mason and Dixon line is forgotten, and northern audiences will be delighted with the scenes, songs and stories typical of the south, while southern audiences will be equally delighted with portions of the program that are typically northern. The prime purpose of the program, aside from entertainment, is to show that we are a united nation; that while we adhere to our traditions and are loyal to the section from which we come, we are one people—all of us are Americans.

SENATOR WILLIAM S. KENYON

Senator William S. Kenyon is a notable addition to the list of noted men who are delivering lectures at the Lyceum platform. He was recently re-elected United States senator from Iowa. Two years ago he was elected to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator J. P. Dolliver, and last fall was again elected, this time for a full term.

He has broad sympathies for men, and especially for unfortunate men. It is an index to his sympathies that his hobby is not golf, but prison reform work. Though in his four years as public prosecutor at Fort Dodge, he convicted every man he brought to trial, he visited the men in the jails again and again to give them the sympathy and helpfulness of one man to another. He has no social ambitions. When he accepted the unsolicited appointment to be the chief assistant to the attorney general, he accepted on condition that he be released from all social duties. "If I go to Washington I want to go to work, not to dine," he told Attorney General Wickersham.

PETER MAC QUEENE

Peter MacQueen, F. R. G. S., sailed in August to represent the Edinburgh Scotsman, Frank Lee lies and other publications in the theater of the "Great European War." He joined the army of the Allies. He will bring fresh news of the superlative horrors of the great battlefields of history. Mr. MacQueen has had many war experiences before, but these new ones in this decade of Europe are by far the most thrilling and terrible.

The pictures he is making on the battlefields and amid the red ruin of the villages and towns of Belgium, France and Germany, will be included in this new, superb travel-

ASH DAVIS, CARTOONIST

Mr. Davis is unique. He is three in one—cartoonist, lecturer and story teller, so artistically blended as to make an ideal entertainer.

Mr. Davis is not an amateur. In thirteen years he has given almost two thousand entertainments. He knows how and does make good.

AUTO PARADE

One of the features of Wednesday, Aug. 25, Automobile Day, will be the auto parade. Tentative arrangements have already been made for this feature and it promises to be a big one.

Mr. Davis brings his own wonderful stereoscopic illustrations, his own operator and his lecture will be one of the big events of the Chautauqua.

ROBERT S. SEEDS

Bob Seeds was in the wholesale, retail and transfer business in Tyrone, Pa. He lost his health and bought an old, worn out, run-down and abandoned farm, moved out on it (where he now lives), redeemed it and has sold many bushels of soil at $1.50 per bushel. The state of Pennsylvania engaged him to go over the state and tell the story, and from that he has been pushed on to the lecture platform.

His story in the world told. Bob has three lectures. "How God Made the Soil Fertile," "Influence of the Home" and "Mistakes of Life Exposed." First, the way he makes his money. The second, the way he tries to live. The third, his religion.

Bob says a man who can make some money, have a first-class home, with sense enough to enjoy it, and have a good religion, has the ground covered as well as any multi-millionaire can cover it.

Bob has lived these lectures; they are part of him, so he just talks till he talks long enough and then quits, and he seems to know when to quit. Bob offers $1000 for any commit-tee man or newspaper man he ever approached for a commendation or for any requested, solicited, doctored or not genuine.

Bob Seeds will open the Chautauqua Friday, Aug. 20.

ANTHONY FIALA

Fiala is one of the most noted explorers of our time, having led two expeditions to within ninety miles of the north pole, suffering unbelievable hardships and barely escaping with his life. Knowing Fiala's courage and resourcefulness, Colonel Roosevelt put him in charge of his recent Brazilian expedition and made him official photographer. His lecture will be illustrated with 3,000 feet of moving picture film he made in Brazil, showing native dances and ceremonies, as well as exploits of the expedition. One hundred still pictures are also shown. None of these wonderful pictures have been exhibited except by Mr. Fiala himself, with his lecture.

OTHER FEATURES

The program as given above does not include an attractive and highly instructive farm program in course of preparation.

Miss Maude and Miss Grace Mount of Lincoln, Illinois, will again have charge of the boys' and girls' playground work each morning. The doll contest, the child's welfare exhibit, will be continued and many other additional features will be announced from time to time. Watch the press for future news regarding Jacksonville's big chautauqua.

*Additional talent on this date to be announced later.

THE SADLERS and MISS WILLMER

Monday, Aug. 23, will be one of the big days of the Chautauqua, when the Sadlers are here. This attraction numbers five persons. Dr. William S. Sadler, Dr. Lena K. Sadler, Anna B. Kellogg, registered nurse, Sarah Mildred Willmer, reader, and Master William Sadler.

The Drs. Sadler are both prominent practitioners, and it is this large medical practice that gives such immense value to their lectures and demonstrations. They tell how to preserve health, prevent disease, care for little ones and what to do in emergencies while waiting for the doctor. At each point they work out a demonstration before the audience. Dr. William Sadler has the happy faculty of speaking upon a topic of vital importance in such a way as to make it very entertaining, as well as instructive. His talk is practical, sane, sensible, interesting and helpful. One of Dr. Sadler's great subjects is "Americanitis, or the High Pressure Life."

Miss Sarah Mildred Willmer, reader, has made a deliberate choice between the stage and the lyceum platform, choosing the Chautauqua because it affords a clean, consistent opportunity to reach the masses—to exalt their ideals, to elevate their standards, to improve their tastes and to increase their love for and appreciation of the good and pure in people and in literature.

In temperament, emotional power, or the ability to move an audience to laughter or tears, Miss Willmer is without an equal.

THE CHICAGO MALE QUARTET

Is an organization designed to give to the public the very best that can be obtained in the field of artistic four-part singing. Unlike most male quartets, this organization is composed of singers with long continued experience in quartet work, who are among the most prominent concert artists and church soloists in the great musical center of America—the city of Chicago—thus giving the guarantee of entertainments of high artistic value and perfect ensemble. They will appear Aug. 25, afternoon and evening.

L. A. C. ORCHESTRA

The orchestra was organized at the Lyceum Arts Conservatory, Chicago, and thoroughly coached by Elias Day, the director of the school, and Max Fischel, the eminent violin teacher.

From their first engagement the company has been a pronounced success. Their program is exceptionally well selected and contains sufficient variety to fulfill all requirements.

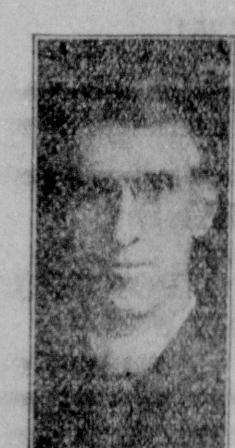

The orchestra is a remarkably well-balanced one. The performers are splendid, either in solo or ensemble work, and are equally at home in the classics or rag-time. From a purely musical standpoint, they were heard to best advantage in the overture "Hungarian Lustspiel," or the selection from "The Bohemian Girl," though the "Popular Selections" caught the crowd and was vigorously applauded. The performers found instant favor with the audience by their talent and evident desire to please. Every number was encored and some were obliged to respond two or three times.

A BIG MUSICAL FEATURE.

FATHER MICHAEL COLLINS

Father Collins will lecture on the subject, "Our Phoenician Ancestors." This eminent Catholic clergyman is the sort of a man all will enjoy, for his equipment is unusual, and he is being recognized as a broad minded scholar and practical altru-ist who is loved by Protestants and Catholics alike and who preaches and loves the doctrine of brotherhood.

Father Collins brings a remarkable story, the outcome of his archeological researches in Phoenicia, Mesopotamia and the Holy Land. He has encircled the globe twice and been the recipient of unusual honors. His pleasing personality and eloquence in delivery are sure to make him a favorite with Chautauquans.

Walter Eccles and the College Girls

Walter Eccles and the College Singing Girls will appear afternoon and evening of Aug. 21. This company is the pioneer of its class and for nine years Mr. Eccles and his quartet of young ladies and their musical director, making a party of six, has been making transcontinental tours, and everywhere given a most unusual welcome. Mr. Eccles as a humorist, impersonator and musical entertainer is alone fully equal to the task of entertaining great audiences, but with the assistance of five others, a musical entertainment most varied, novel and clever is produced. They introduce many original compositions written especially for them, and also many operatic scenes and selections, appearing in a variety of charming costumes.

Citizens of Jacksonville and Morgan County

The Directors feel that the Chautauqua is your enterprise. You have made it what it is. Its destiny will continue in your hands. The program for 1915 is by far the most expensive of any heretofore offered. The talent is all high class. The entertainment features are numerous. The musical attractions, featured by Jeffries' Concert Band, are unexcelled. The price of season tickets is popular and within the reach of all.

Every citizen of Jacksonville and Morgan County can give the Chautauqua a boost. Won't you get busy? Do it now. Pull for Jacksonville's Big Chautauqua and make all roads lead to Nichols' Park the last ten days in August. Address all communications to A. C. RICE, Sec'y and Supt., Jacksonville, Ill.

WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

HEAVY SELLING CARRIES PRICE OF WHEAT DECISIVELY DOWNWARD

Result is a Weak Close at 2 1/2 to 2 3/4 Cents Under Previous Finish—Corn, Oats and Provisions Lose.

Chicago, June 5.—Heavy selling on the part of big concerns today carried the price of wheat decisively downward. The result was a weak close at 2 1/2 to 2 3/4 under last night's.

Corn finished 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 down, oats off 1/2 to 1 1/4, and provisions at losses varying from 1/2 to 5/8 to 1 1/2.

Although it seemed at one time as if the declining tendency in wheat had been checked, the prospect was entirely dispelled about half an hour before the close. At this juncture, the selling broadened out to proportions which swept the market lower than ever before since the shadow of the new crop began to force values to shrink. In this connection many reports were received today indicating an early harvest. Southern Illinois, for example, was expected to cut wheat next week, perhaps by Monday.

Prospects of clearing weather southwest where crop damage apparently had indicated might be the case, did a good deal to intensify bearish sentiment regarding wheat. Feeling was also influenced by the continued fall in quotations, from Liverpool, especially as the export demand for new wheat was slow and the banks at the seaboard were said to be refusing to negotiate long exchange.

Corn followed the lead of wheat and particularly so in the break at the end of the session.

Predictions were for enlarged receipts next week. The arrivals here of late have been smaller than at any corresponding time in five years. Weakness of oats appeared to come chiefly from sympathy with the action of other grain. Offerings of new crop oats to arrive increased to a considerable extent.

Provisions had no adequate support. It was said packers were trying to unload their holdings.

Chicago Livestock Market. Receipts, 10,000. Market, steady to a shade higher.

Interesting Data of Former Students of Woman's College

The following data relative to students of Illinois Woman's College was read by Miss Louise Gates at the recent Alumnae association meeting of the school:

In looking over the Alumnae records I find that there is now but one living member of the first two classes that graduated from our college. She is Mrs. Alice McElroy Griffith. At the Springfield association meeting April 24th Mrs. Griffith told of the death of her last classmate, Mrs. Lavilla Wyatt Latham at Lincoln, Ill., the early part of April. Mrs. Latham I believe was not a graduate of the college though a member of the class of '52. She had been a very prominent club woman during her life, the founder, as I understand it, of the Federation of Women's Clubs, and her home has ever been a Mecca for prominent and earnest men and women.

In Jacksonville on Sept. 19 occurred the death of Miss Frances McGinnis at the age of 81. For many years Miss McGinnis had taught in the public schools of Jacksonville and in the Illinois School for the Blind.

Of the death toll of the great Lusitania is the name of Mrs. Kate Dietrick Wiley of the class of '72. Mrs. Wiley's home is in Chicago, though for many years she has spent the winters in Paris. She had been earnest in her work of relief, in connection with the Red Cross movement in the European struggle, and was at the time of her death on her way to the front with a trunk of bandages and other aids for wounded soldiers.

Mrs. Emma Graves Perkins of the class of '75 visited in Jacksonville last December on her way home to San Francisco after attending the National Executive meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society in Syracuse, N. Y., of which she is a most efficient officer. She is doing a wonderful work as chairman of the Bureau of Oriental Work in San Francisco.

Of the class of '96, Mrs. Jessica Arenz Coleman of Palmyra, Ill., on Feb. 17 was blessed with a second son, Frederick Walden. There are also three daughters in her home.

Word has been received of the birth of a daughter, Geneva, to Mr. and Mrs. William E. Pearson of Coalinga, Cal. Mrs. Pearson was formerly Miss Lola Blackburn, a member of the class of '92.

On Sept. 20, Miss Etta Blackburn, '94 became the bride of Mr. Charles G. Stienhart of Wilmington, Ill.

Our Dr. Harker is of another grandson proud. Richard Roulfe Riddell has come to bless the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Harker Riddell.

Of the class of '04 in Jacksonville Mrs. Bertha Ogram Potter has a second son, James Edward.

Mrs. Gertrude Tanner Day, class of 1902, writes from her home in Alexandria, La., that she is enjoying life on Evasta Plantation and that she has for near neighbors Mrs. Jessie Bellard Fremoux, class of '04, and her small son, born last July.

Dr. Harker brings word of the approaching marriage of Mary Hughes class of '06, on June 17, to Mr. Harry Cash. They are to live in Minneapolis.

On June 2d of last year Sarah Hughes and Mr. Ralph Otis Aikman were married. Gracia Coo, of the class of '06, was one of the bridal party.

A June wedding of wide interest to I. W. C. alumnae is that of Miss Alice Wadsworth to Dr. Alpha B. Applebee, both of Jacksonville, the wedding taking place June 2d at Grace M. E. church. Miss Wadsworth is an member of the class of 1905 that held a tenth reunion this commencement.

Hortense Corbett, of the class of 1908, gave up her teaching last year to become the bride of Mr. F. B. Landers, Sept. 21. They have their home in Edwardsville, Ill.

We have announcement of the arrival of Edward Maine Shafer, April 15. His mother, Gladys Maine of '08, was a June bride of last year. A daughter, Louise, was born on Feb. 15 to Mr. and Mrs. Alvin L. Keyes of Springfield. Mrs. Keyes was Helen Lewis, a graduate of the Art department in 1909.

Of the class of '10, Hazel Ash Ferris is rejoicing on the arrival of a son, Preston Aldace Ferris. Mr. and Mrs. Ferris live in Santiago, Cuba (or San Diego, Cal.) where Mr. Ferris is a druggist.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Meserve at Hanover, N. H., a daughter, Allen Bond, April 27. Mrs. Meserve was Ann White of '04.

A third child, a daughter, was born in May to Mrs. Hortense Stark Robert of Nash, Oklahoma. Mrs. Pauline Keenan Igon of Bettendorf, Iowa, writes of her six months old son who so engrossingly occupies her time.

At Fort Huachuca, Arizona, a little son, John Charles Freeman, was born on Feb. 22 to Lieutenant and Mrs. Filson. Mrs. Filson, of the class of '09, will be remembered as Helen Lambert, the granddaughter of Dr. Short and the daughter of our Mrs. Lambert.

Esther Asplund, who came back to the college for her degree with the class of 1912, was married July 22 to Mr. Frank Rucker. They are living in Independence, Mo. where Mr. Rucker is a prominent newspaper man.

On Sept. 9th Ruth Patterson, class of 1911, was married at Lawrence, Kansas to Mr. Fred B. Hopper. They are making their home in Jacksonville where Mrs. Hopper is an active daughter of I. W. C.

Two loyal former students have sent wedding announcements recently. Miss Emily Foraker was married in Kansas City, Jan. 18 to Mr. Russell. Miss Thirza Wood also was married in Kansas City.

On Sept. 28 a daughter, Rachel, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lohman of Ashland, Ill. Mrs. Lohman was Annette Reark of the class of 1912.

Frances Freeman, a graduate of 1913 in the department home economics, was married Dec. 4 to Mr. DeWitt F. Hartwell of Marion, Ill., where they will reside.

Miss Bess Bannister, a former member of the class of '14, was united in marriage with Mr. Harry Weber, a pretty Easter wedding. Their home is Chicago.

Helen Ryan, who was for three years an art student at I. W. C., was married at Pontiac, Ill., August 4, to Mr. C. Stacy Long. They are at home in Parma, Idaho.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. Obermeyer, a son, John Arthur. Mrs. Obermeyer as Gertrude Newman entered the college in 1911, remaining two years.

On Feb. 15 at Terre Haute, Ind., a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Lyle Pickering. Mrs. Pickering as Catherine Yates, daughter of ex-Gov. Richard Yates, spent several years at the Woman's college, of which her grandfather, Mr. A. C. Wadsworth, was for 40 years a trustee.

Miss Ella Blake, of the department of home economics 1913, was married during the holidays at her home in Lafayette, Indiana.

Miss Jess Campbell, who graduated in 1913 and was our May Queen of that year, was married June 4th to Mr. Edward Davis, professor of mathematics at the University of Minnesota. Their home was gladdened April 9th by the arrival of Jane Davis.

Our own treasurer, who was Emily Jane Allan, of the class of '13, has a splendid son, William Lewis Fay.

At Christmas time announcement was made of the engagement of Elizabeth Dunbar, '13, to Mr. Rexford Tompkins. The wedding is to take place in June.

Of the class of '13, Lois Coultas is teaching at Illinois Woman's college, having taken her master's degree in German at the University of Illinois last year. Helen Moore is finishing a second successful year at Lucy Cobb Institute, Athens, Georgia.

HOW TO SELECT RIGHT CLOTHING

RELATION TO HEALTH MUST FIRST BE CONSIDERED.

Cost Rises With Amount of Money at Our Command, as All Have Fondness for Adornment—Women Must Be Familiar With Values.

By Georgia E. Fleming, Department of Household Science, University of Illinois.—Article I.

The factors which enter into the selection of clothing for the family are many and varied. Their relation to health and efficiency should be the first consideration when one is buying materials, but unfortunately, it is not always true, because some of these other factors seem to be more important.

The amount of money at our disposal always influences us, and right ly so. In a study of family incomes made by Mrs. Ellen H. Richards, who was one of the first women to make a serious study of the home, she found that with incomes varying from $800 to $4,000, between 15 and 20 per cent was expended for clothing. The budgets which she studied seemed to assume and keep this almost constant proportion so it is safe to say that we spend about one-fifth to one-sixth of our yearly income for our clothing. Now, if we spent for our dress only enough to protect us from the weather, the amount would be comparatively small but we all have an innate love for adornment in clothing; thus the cost rises with the amount of money at our command.

When a family has $500 or less on which to live, food, of course, must be provided at all costs, for on it our very life depends. Perhaps not over one-eighth of the income, or approximately $2 a week, can be spent for the clothing for five people, so above all else it should be considered in its relation to health. The winter garments should be as warm as possible, so they will protect the body from the weather. If a woman is to obtain the best value for the money expended it is essential that she be a shopper who does not have to depend upon the clerk to tell her what to buy and how much to buy. She should be able to sew and she should have a knowledge of the textile fibers, so that for each dollar which she spends she should obtain the value of a dollar. There is no law which will protect her against adulterated fabrics such as sleazy cotton cloth, which is made to appear better in quality by sizing, or silk which is heavily weighted, or so-called wool material containing very little wool.

As income increases, As the income of the family rises to $1,000, $2,000, $4,000 and over, the proportion which is spent for the family wardrobe increases to one-fifth and more. The quality of the materials is better, a greater number of garments are bought, there is an aim to obtain more adornment, and of course, fashion begins to play a very conspicuous part. We Americans have a tendency to try to dress just a bit better than our neighbor, so we are apt to put more money on our clothes than we can really afford.

Now if we are trying to divide our income in such a way that we spend proper proportions for food, for living expenses, for higher life and for dress, then in order to be dressed just as well as we can, let us say on $50, $75 to $100, we must study the question to see just how we may buy in the very wisest manner. It is a problem for each individual to settle as to whether we shall have clothes made at home or by a dressmaker or buy them ready-made. If we have time, can sew well, have some knowledge of cutting and fitting garments, have some individuality or an idea of customs, desirability, then we can buy good material and for a comparatively low cost we can make a very good appearance.

Buying Good Material. Some women who themselves have no knowledge of dressmaking consider it more economical to have a few garments made by a first-class dressmaker than to buy them ready-made. However, one can usually find well designed suits, coats and dresses, which with slight alterations made by expert fitters at the large stores, result in satisfaction to the wearer. The material may not always be just as good as we would obtain if making the garment, but this is often quite impossible. It is also an individual question whether it is cheaper for us to buy an expensive garment and wear it one or two years, or to pay perhaps twice as much and wear it from two to three years. The better material may be obtained in the latter way, and if a conservative style be chosen the result is the most satisfactory.

KERNELS FROM THE KORNBELT.

(By Sol Quizer.)

EFFICIENT ACRES.

Plant food must be supplied to the soil, but it is no more a case of once stocking and all is over than it is a case of once stocking the pantry for all time. Building up the land is a continuous performance. The soil is forever living and dying and it must be forever supplied with the means to live and to give.

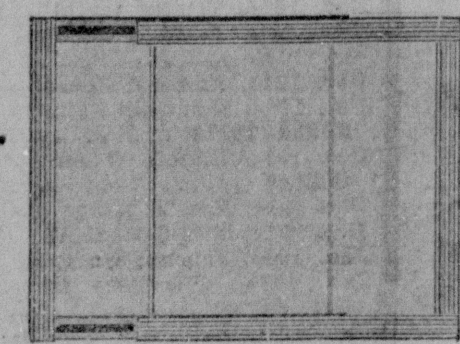

Manure is better than mourning. When the land refuses to yield; And limestone is wiser Than acting the miser When sour's the soil of the field.

This is an argument for proper fertilization: for permanent agriculture; for efficient acres, by Dr. B. E. Powell in "Country Gentleman" of May 15, 1915.

A COMMISSIONER SPEAKS.
A short time since the Journal mentioned the complaint of a citizen that a peculiarly bad place in a road which had been recently worked was not provided with warnings at either end leaving auto drivers to get into the mire.

A commissioner remarked to a Journal reporter yesterday that there were grievances too on the part of the commissioner too. He said that the complainants were utterly silent when strenuous efforts had been put forth to place the road in first class condition and with success. Regarding the place mentioned he said a driver was approaching it with a large car when he was kindly warned by a person not to try the place and replied by curtly advising the volunteer informant to travel a road paved with good intentions, or words to that effect and passing on. In due time he found himself inextricably stuck and four horses were needed to pull him out. He didn't ask the driver of the horses to go to any kind of a warmer climate either.

He said at certain corners of the road where there was great danger of collisions he had placed signs asking auto drivers to sound their horns on passing and not one in fifty heeded the request.
